Our people

Gender pay & bonus gap

	MEAN	MEDIAN
HOURLY PAY	8%	2%
BONUS	30%	8%

The hourly gender pay gap is the difference between the average hourly pay rate for males and females for the month of April 2024 expressed as a % of the male average.

The bonus pay gap is the difference between the average of all bonuses, including commissions, paid to male and female employees in the 12 months up to and including April 2024 expressed as a % of the male average.

"Average" is calculated in two ways, mean and median. The mean is the total male or female pay divided by the total number of males or females. The median is the pay received by the middle male or female when all hourly rates or bonuses are ranked in order.

Pay quartiles

Whilst a reduction in the mean hourly pay gap is reported when compared to April 2023, our figures show that average hourly pay for male employees remains higher than for female employees. Conveyancing Direct Property Lawyers has a higher representation of females in the top pay quartiles, which drives a low gender pay gap. The gender pay gap demonstrates the overall difference in average earnings (mean and median) between men and women. This is not the same as equal pay, which is the difference between men and women carrying out the same role, similar roles or roles of equal value. Our policy is to pay men and women equally for doing equivalent jobs across our business.

Proportion of females and males receiving a bonus

A higher representation of females in the top pay quartile is reflected in the low median pay gap for Conveyancing Direct Property Lawyers. However, whilst those roles in the upper quartiles attract a bonus, those in the lower quartiles do not tend to carry a bonus opportunity. As these roles are predominantly held by females, this drives the overall bonus gap.

Richard Twigg, Group Chief Finance and Commercial Officer

For the purposes of gender pay gap reporting, 'pay' is calculated as an hourly rate (as at 5 April 2024).

In addition to basic salary, the hourly rate calculation includes a number of other payments e.g. specific allowances and monthly bonuses.
